Leading Edge Operations Excellence

We Get the Job Done...

Helping you boost competitiveness in order to win in today's cutthroat business environment. We get the job done!

The fact of life is that today, more than ever before, businesses operate in an increasingly competitive and challenging environment. With constant pressures on companies to post higher operating results, and with increasing demands from customers to receive the best product or service at the lowest cost, companies are confronted with difficult decisions regarding how to generate more value, i.e. minimize cost while increasing features, quality, safety and customer satisfaction. We are seeing more and more companies across the industry spectrum turning to various Continuous Improvement initiatives to realize these goals so as to stay ahead of the competition.

Who We Are

Leading Edge Operations Excellence (LEOPEX) is a business transformation firm with expertise in deploying proven Lean Six Sigma tools and methodologies to achieve immediate and stellar returns for our clients. We bring over thirty years of combined experience and knowledge in business excellence to drive change in our client's organization. To make this transformation successful, LEOPEX works closely with the client company such that we get "embedded" in your organization to learn your processes and systems from the ground up. We work to build buy-in of our clients by truly partnering and working shoulder to shoulder with your staff from the ground all the way up to the executive floor, positioning them to be successful.

Our Services

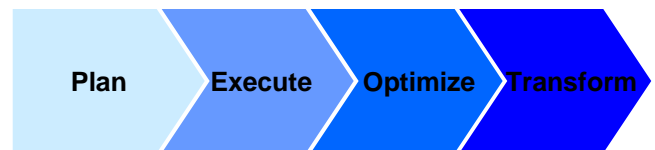

At LEOPEX, our core competence is deploying multiple Lean Six Sigma tools to address specific and unique problem areas for our clients. Our consultative approach is designed to diagnose process weaknesses in business, infuse Lean Sigma competence in the client's organization, and develop customized solutions to achieve sustained operational and financial performance. Our tool-kit includes:

Lean Sigma Deployment, Hoshin Planning, End to End Value Stream Analysis, Executive Coaching, Organizational Champion and Belt Development, Training Development and Execution, Kaizen Events Planning and Execution and Lean Learning Center Development.

Our Approach

LEOPEX understands the importance of optimizing cost, quality and customer satisfaction which we believe is the best long-term strategy for companies to achieve greater financial performance. Our proven Lean Sigma approach helps our clients to reduce cost, eliminate waste and improve quality thereby promoting superior customer satisfaction for their organizations.

LEOPEX has established a four-step process to helping companies implement enterprise-wide Lean deployment with assured results.

It starts with fully understanding your objectives and requirements, and then developing a Lean deployment strategy that fits those goals. We actively engage the people involved in the day-to-day business to bring out the best of their ideas, and to involve them in developing practical and lasting solutions. Throughout the deployment, we provide coaching, mentoring and project support to help our clients imbed the learning and tools in their organization, and achieve a Lean Sigma way of thinking. LEOPEX can design a tailored Lean deployment approach for your organization that will build enthusiasm with your staff and excite your customers while at the same time building excellence. We pride ourselves in applying our proven concepts to realize impactful and self-sustaining changes throughout the enterprise.

Our Commitment

We speak and live Lean Sigma. We don't set our goals at a marginal 5% to 10% improvement; rather we strive for 30% to 50% improvement when we implement Lean Six Sigma projects. We have demonstrated remarkable results for our partner clients and have coached and guided our client leadership towards success.

For proven results from a client-focused firm that seeks to partner with your organization on your journey towards excellence, call us...we are Leading Edge...we get the job done!
